100-word flash fiction stories by 50 authors from around the globe, all based on one photo prompt. Compiled by Madison Woods. Authors include Stephanie Ayers, Holly Suzanne Beckman-Filbert, Sarah Paige Berling, Vincent J Bracco, JK Bradley, Jan Brown, Michelle Bunt, Sandra Crook, Marilyn Kay Dennis, Phyllis Anne Duncan, Sean Fallon, Nathan Filbert, Michael B. Fishman, Abraham Gumba, Sarah Ann Hall, Elaine Hillson, Laura L Mays Hoopes, Joyce E. Johnson, Richard Kestrel, Jane Kohler, Sonia Lal, Erin Leary, Cindy Marsch, Randy Mazie, Kathy McClure, Jennifer McNamara, Lora Mitchell, Jan Morrill, Sharon Nelson, Raina Ng, Celestine Nudanu, Anne Orchard, Sue Owen, Melody Pearson, Jennifer Pendergast, Stacey Plowright, Ron Pruitt, Bjorn Rudberg, Quill Shiv, Piya Singh, Atiya Townes, Scott L Vannatter, Richard Voza, Bill Webb, Janet Webb, Sonya Welter, Susan Wenzel, Chris White, Rochelle Wisoff-Fields, and Al-Zaquan. This anthology is a collective effort by many of the authors I've had the pleasure of working with through blogs, online storytelling and sharing. Inside there are 50 stories. One is my Editors Pick. Its story #36, Lovers Knotty Tree by JK Bradley, and I hope you love it as much as I did. I love the tension that maintains the balance between everything right and wrong, good and bad, life and death, dark and light, predator and prey. I believe acknowledging and working with the tension, rather than trying to do away with it, is the key to happiness as well as the key to good stories. The best stories in this anthology have picked up on how to work with and maintain tension even in the cramped space of 100 words. The best stories don't feel cramped at all. If you enjoyed this collection of stories, please leave a review for it. That's a single, simple and yet tremendously helpful act you can do for any author you've read. Enjoy!
