

Behind every face, these flawed yet authentic characters are driven by their own sense of skewed logic: a man fends off accusations by the woman he loves, a lonely woman is in pursuit of the perfect stranger, a naive woman believes she has found her dream man, a desperate woman escapes from a risky relationship, a convalescing woman finds terror when her car breaks down, a woman becomes a stalkers target. From young women to elderly matrons, from the savvy sophisticates to the socially inept, the characters in these stories depict lifes defining moments where one calculated move cements the unalterable fate of another and the inescapable consequences of karma and conscience.
