Headhunting: A modern-day San Francisco thriller about corporate greed, corruption, revenge and murder.

Headhunting is a psychological thriller set in modern-day San Francisco. One man, Peter Riley, is a beacon of honesty and integrity in a world of corporate greed and corruption. He suffers severe head trauma in a horrific car crash and his psyche is soon twisted into visions of torture and murder, all in the name of retribution and revenge. The combination of physical trauma and mental anguish culminate in his acting on his murderous impulses. Little does he know that two of San Francisco's best detectives are close on his heels and are desperate to solve the multiple murders of high-profile, yet corrupt executives.
