

Mao II: A Novel

Winner of the PEN/Faulkner Award From the author of White Noise (winner of the National Book Award) and Zero K One of the most intelligent, grimly funny voices to comment on life in present-day America (The New York Times), Don DeLillo presents an extraordinary new novel about words and images, novelists and terrorists, the mass mind and the arch-individualist. At the heart of the book is Bill Gray, a famous reclusive writer who escapes the failed novel he has been working on for many years and enters the world of political violence, a nightscape of Semtex explosives and hostages locked in basement rooms. Bills dangerous passage leaves two people stranded: his brilliant, fixated assistant, Scott, and the strange young woman who is Scotts lover--and Bills. From the Trade Paperback edition.
