

Apostrophes & Apocalypses: The First Collection From One of the Most Acclaimed SF Writers of the Decade

Before novels like Mother of Storms, A Million Open Doors, Finity, and Earth Made of Glass, John Barnes was known for quirky, powerful short stories, many published by SF magazines in the late 1980s. Now the best of them are finally collected--along with several new stories that appear here for the first time ever. Also here are several examples of Barnes trenchant writings on the art of SF, ranging from provocative polemics like Deep in the Heart of Genre and That Style Thingie to his classic How to Build a Future, the definitive modern essay on the construction of science-fictional plausibility.
