

Streetpoet

These poems reflect one mans love of nature and tell us about the life he was leading as a museum curator - dealing in the natural mysteries of life and geology as he puts it! The poems in the original paperback version are illustrated with the amazing and enigmatic wood engravings of Thomas Bewick (b.1753) which have to be seen to be believed (not available on the Kindle version).Here the poet fantasises about his life and work in a small steel town museum with large areas of the Lincolnshire countryside as his parish at his fingertips.In this book he takes his readers on a unique journey into a self-created wonderland, unimagined in the dull life of a museum curator.10,000 copies of his early poems found places in other hearts, he hopes these reprinted poems will find a place in your hearts.Being a seeker after truth in his early years - now in his eighth decade as writer, poet, sculptor and Buddhist thinker, he believes he has reached Nirvana in this present lifetime - following his own distinct path to Buddhism.Price $5If you would like to read more of this authors work; go to A CHARMED LIFE - EIGHT STEPS TO HAPPINESS AND MY PATH TO SGI.
