

The Peeper is the story of an unlikely hero, a lonely young man who makes friends through dorm windows under cover of darkness. While engaged in his own illegal activities, Elliott Cash sees more than he ever wanted to. The brutal murder of one of his friends. He struggles for a way to tell the police without going to jail-or worse. With no place to turn, its up to Elliott to stop the murderer. In a foolish act of heroism, he prevents another murder but draws the killers attention to himself. When campus detectives Sam Fullerton and Kay Kendall meet Elliott, neither trusts the sweet but challenged young mans vague story. Then proof shatters their perceptions and their lives. The Peeper is a novel of suspense that takes place on a South Carolina college campus over twelve life-altering days. The subject matter in The Peeper is described in adult language. About the AuthorsThe Peeper is co-authored by Jim Christopher and Ellis Vidler. Although the crimes and location are fictional, the police procedures are accurate. Major (Ret.) Jim Christopher, former Chief of Staff of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED), has more than forty years of experience in law enforcement. His experience in police procedure is evident in The Peeper. During his time with SLED, Jim served as Coordinator for Counterterrorism and was also Director of Criminal Investigations. He is a member of several police organizations and the author of a published short story. Ellis Vidler is an author and editor. She has also been a technical writer and editor, illustrator, and taught creative writing. She won the SC Writers Workshop Literary Award for Short Fiction. Ellis is a member of Sisters in Crime and Romance Writers of America. She lives in upstate South Carolina.
